

Invitation
National Snowboard Judges Clinic
2025 in Innsbruck

Innsbruck, 24.09.2025

Dear all,

Herewith, we would like to invite you to the National Snowboard Judges Clinic 2025 on the 15th and 16th of November in Innsbruck.

The Judges Clinic is teaching relevant information on how Snowboard competitions are being judged. This can be interesting not only for future judges, but also for Snowboard coaches, athletes or parents who want to get a better understanding of the sport for their respective backgrounds. Therefore, this clinic has multiple goals for a wide range of participants:

- Participants who successfully pass the exam at the end of the clinic will receive a FIS C-License, which allows them to Judge national FIS events and completes the first level of the FIS judge's education path.
- Coaches can gain a better understanding of how their athletes' performance is being judged in competitions and can use this information for their training approach.
- Parents and other Snowboard affiliated people can get a very good understanding on how judging is being carried out in Snowboarding.

There are no prerequisites to participate at this clinic. However, it is recommended that those who want to engage as a judge have a good understanding of the Snowboard sport in general.

Further details and the application form can be found following this link:

Important:

If the number of participants is too low, we reserve the right to cancel the National Judge Training on November 7. In this case, you will be informed via e-mail.

Please don't hesitate to get in touch, in case you have any questions:
